Dear Larry Brewster:

The purpose of this letter is to officially submit Indiana's State Plan on Aging and In-Home Services for Fiscal Years 2004 – 2005 in accordance with the requirements of the Older Americans Act. The Plan has been prepared in consultation with the Indiana Commission on Aging, the Area Agencies on Aging, and the Indiana Family and Social Services Administration (FSSA).

In addition to meeting the intent of the Older Americans Act, the Plan has been developed as a companion to the Division of Disability, Aging and Rehabilitative Services (DDARS) Action Plan. All Aging and In-Home Services Goals that are reflected in the Plan are arranged in accordance with the DDARS Goals.

This dual purpose Plan exemplifies the streamlining and re-tooling of government which has placed Indiana in a leadership position in providing aging and in-home services through a comprehensive, coordinated alternative to institutional care. Indiana does this through an innovative approach to serving older adults and individuals with disabilities with a single point of entry for services. Indiana's 16 Area Agencies on Aging administer the In-Home Services Program and other community based services at the local level through a network of service providers.

We look forward to your approval of Indiana's State Plan on Aging and In-Home Services for Fiscal Years 2004-2005, and look forward to executing the provisions of this Plan. If you have questions or desire additional information, please contact Doug Beebe, Deputy Director, Indiana Bureau of Aging and In-Home Services, part of the Division of Disability, Aging and Rehabilitative Services, within the Indiana Family and Social Services Administration. Mr. Beebe may be reached at (317) 232-7123 or via e-mail at dsbeebe@fssa.state.in.us.

INDIANA STATE PLAN FOR AGING AND IN-HOME SERVICES
Fiscal years 2004-2005

INDIANA STATE PLAN
FOR
AGING AND IN-HOME SERVICES
FY 2004-2005

BACKGROUND AND INTRODUCTION

The Bureau of Aging and In-Home Services funds and administers in-home services and community-based programs for the elderly and persons with disabilities in Indiana through a statewide network of sixteen Area Agencies on Aging (AAA). The AAA case management system provides for a “single point of entry” for the aged and disabled making services accessible for individuals through a coordinated and integrated approach. This is accomplished by service delivery planning that looks at a continuum of human needs from complete independence to no longer being able to live independently even with supportive in-home services. There are 988,506 people in Indiana over age 60 according to the 2000 census, and more than 291,000 of them experience some limitation in two or more “activities of daily living” such as bathing, dressing, or walking. Additionally, there are 559,000 persons below age 65 who also experience some limitation in these activities. The in-home services and community-based programs of the Bureau of Aging and In-Home Services provide high quality, cost effective, and accessible services to meet these growing needs of Indiana citizens.

In-home services include home health services, homemaker, attendant care, respite care, adult day care, transportation, home delivered meals, habilitation and other appropriate services such as minor home modifications and adaptive aids. The program brings together funding from the Community and Home Options to Institutional Care for the Elderly and Individuals with Disabilities (CHOICE) Program, Title III of the Older American Act, Social Services Block Grant, Older Hoosiers Account, four Home and Community Based Medicaid Waivers, United States Department of Agriculture Meals Program, and other federal, local and private funds.

In addition to in-home services, the Bureau of Aging and In-Home Services provides an additional range of community-based and protective services including: congregate meals, information and referral, legal services, ombudsman, preventive health services, adult guardianship, adult protective services, senior employment, pre-admission screening and annual resident review, assisted living thorough Room and Board Assistance (RBA) and Assistance to Residents in County Homes (ARCH) programs, and money management and representative payee programs.

The In-Home Services, the Community-Based, and Protective Programs continue to serve as a model for service delivery in the provision of a comprehensive, coordinated, integrated alternative to institutionalization. Indiana’s program is especially appealing because of its innovative approach to serving older adults and persons with disabilities with a single point of entry, its cost share provision, and its focus on the entire family. In 1998, Indiana was ranked number one in the nation by the National Governor’s Association for its interagency collaboration and innovations in preparing for the aging baby boomers. Two strength of Indiana's approach were quoted as "the authority given to care managers to blend funds for home care and the decentralization of power across Indiana's sixteen Area Agencies on Aging." In addition, the implementation of a comprehensive computer system called the Automated Aging Information Management System (AIMS) enables Indiana to reach its program goals.

The Bureau of Aging and In-Home Services' quality assurance initiatives have continued to grow. The Quality Improvement Program (QIP) has expanded to all sixteen AAAs and data collection is currently underway. Each AAA is to survey 2-5% of their in-home service recipients to determine client satisfaction in the areas of service quality and provider/caregiver dependability. In addition, all consumers receiving services through CHOICE or a Medicaid Waiver receives a review every 90 days by their case manager. Consumer based information is then aggregated, preserving confidentiality, and feedback is given to providers. This feedback mechanism is designed to not only assure quality but to improve services. The Bureau of Aging and In-Home Services has also contracted with the Center of Outcome Analysis of Philadelphia to assess and monitor quality of life indicators and outcomes of all former residents of closed state developmental centers residing in community settings. The in-depth assessment measures if the consumers are receiving needed services that promote quality of life outside the institution. The assessments are conducted at regular intervals and any detrimental situations are identified for correction.

In conclusion, Indiana's In-Home Services and Community-Based Program has grown significantly over the years to meet the demands of Hoosier elderly and persons with disabilities. The innovative In-home services program has received national recognition for its single point of entry, coordination of services for persons of all ages, use of cost share methodology, and tracking system.

Looking toward the future, the CHOICE Board has developed a vision for a continuum of care of services. In accordance with Indiana House Enrolled Act (HEA) 1630, the vision is based on the principles of independence, quality, dignity, privacy, and personal choice. The continuum further emphasizes Indiana's commitment to a full array of long-term care services that include a range of individual options.

This FY 2004-2005 Indiana State Plan for Aging and In-Home Services was prepared by the Bureau of Aging and In-Home Services (BAIHS) under authority delegated by the Director of the Division of Disability, Aging and Rehabilitative Services (DDARS), the Secretary of the Family and Social Services Administration (FSSA) and the Governor of the State of Indiana. It was prepared in coordination with the Indiana Commission on Aging, an advisory body, consumers, and the 16 Area Agencies on Aging.

Indiana Bureau of Aging and In-Home Services State Plan Goals and Objectives

For Fiscal Years 2004 - 2005

The following pages set forth the Bureau of Aging and In-Home Services (BAIHS) program Goals and Objectives, with appropriate outcomes which are linked to Administration on Aging guidelines and the Indiana Family and Social Services Administration key biennium priorities. The number one priority for this biennium is to expand home and community-based services for an additional 1,000 senior citizens. It is intended that this two-year plan be used as a roadmap in paving the way for our next State Plan.

TITLE III E THE NATIONAL FAMILY CAREGIVER SUPPORT PROGRAM

Title III-E, the National Family Caregiver Support Program, was created in by the 2000 amendments to the Older Americans Act. It addresses the need to acknowledge and encourage the role caregivers play in the country's home and community-based services (HCBS) system. The program seeks to support caregivers in a coordinated and responsive manner.

The National Family Caregiver Support Program builds on the other Title III specific service programs which include: congregate and homebound nutrition programs for the elderly; health promotion and disease prevention activities; in-home services for the frail elderly; support services such as transportation; and services that protect the rights of older persons, such as the Long-Term Care (LTC) Ombudsman Program.

The National Family Caregiver Support Program has been built not only on these Title III programs but a number of other initiatives during the past 15 years: research sponsored by the Administration on Aging, the National Institute of Aging, and others that focused on demonstrating the effectiveness of providing support services to caregivers; state-funded caregiver support programs created in the 1980s and 1990s as a response to the growing numbers and needs of caregivers serving an expanding number population of older persons wanting to remain in the community; and advocacy by organizations representing caregivers, such as the Alzheimer's Association and the Family Caregiver Alliance. The National Family Caregiver Support Program not only further attempts to meet the needs of today's older Americans but also attempts to meet the needs of the coming wave of aging Baby Boomers.

The National Family Caregiver Support Program emphasizes the need to create optimum flexibility and maximize consumer choice.

The aging network has always been involved with both the care recipient and caregivers, but this is the first time that caregiver needs have been specifically addressed. The National Family Caregiver Support Program serves to showcase the Indiana Family and Social Services Administration's Key Biennium Priorities to increase the availability and quality of home and community-based services as well as consumer-directed care.

Program Description

While the Bureau of Aging and In-Home Services places priority consideration to persons in greatest social and economic need (with particular attention to low-income older persons and older relatives caring for children or older adults with MR/DD), the National Family Caregiver Support Program has identified specific populations to serve.

The specific populations are the informal caregivers of older adults (where the care recipient is 60 years of age or older) and grandparents and relative caregivers of children 18 years of age and younger (the grandparents and the relative caregivers must be 60 years of age or older, sometimes known as "Grandparents raising Grandchildren" programs).

The National Family Caregiver Support Program calls for all states, working in partnership with the area agencies on aging (the area agencies on aging are the single points of entry for the National Family Caregiver Support Program) and local community-service providers to have five basic services for family caregivers, including:

- ◆ Information to caregivers about available services;
- ◆ Assistance to caregivers in gaining access to the services;
- ◆ Individual counseling, organization of support groups, and caregiver training to assist the caregivers in making decisions and solving problems relating to their caregiver roles;
- ◆ Respite care to enable caregivers to be temporarily relieved from their caregiving responsibilities;
- ◆ Supplemental services, on a limited basis, to complement the care provided by the caregivers.

In the short two years that Indiana has had the funds for the National Family Caregiver Support Program, Indiana's area agencies on aging have established the Indiana Caregiver's Alliance to promote and expand the program in coordination and collaboration with the Indiana Association of Area Agencies on Aging and the Bureau of Aging and In-Home Services. Year one was a building year for the area agencies on aging which involved information brokerage and enhancing service capacity to ensure that the National Family Caregiver Support Program had the ability to reach a broad population base. Year two was one of program development and service delivery to that population base.

The extrapolated Family Caregiver data for the period July 1, 2002 through June 30, 2003 reflects the following:

Service Component	Units	Persons Served
Information	4,742	202,456
Assistance	6,834	2,897
Counseling/Support	*
Groups/Training	7,753	3,991
Respite	15,434	652
Supplemental Services	13,518	513

*The service description for this component refers to a range of individual and group services that assist caregivers in making decisions, solving problems, and gaining knowledge related to their caregiving role. The unit reports and the clients served are not separated into individual categories for "training," "counseling," or "support groups".

DISEASE PREVENTION AND HEALTH PROMOTION

Description of Issue

Established with the passage of the Older Americans Act in 1965, Congress in 1992 added new language authorizing Disease Prevention and Health Promotion. Disease Prevention and Health Promotion provides information through Indiana's area agencies on aging and establishes a statutory basis for the collaboration between public health and aging services by directing the Administration on Aging to consult with the Center for Disease Control in carrying out this disease prevention and health promotion mandate.

Program Description

The Bureau of Aging and In-Home Services contracts with the area agencies on aging to provide disease prevention and health promotion services to the community. Based on the local needs assessment, the area agencies on aging may contract with local health departments or other local providers of service and/or provide these services directly which includes medication management, health screening and education to prevent incorrect medication or adverse drug interactions.

The area agencies on aging have developed mechanisms to provide disease prevention and health promotion information to their communities. These following examples include but are not limited to the following:

- ◆ Senior Game format to offer health promotion activities to challenge seniors
- ◆ Health Fairs
- ◆ Indiana State Fair
- ◆ Indiana Governor's Conference on Aging
- ◆ Medication Management programs in cooperation with university schools of pharmacy as well as local pharmacists
- ◆ Healthy Living magazines and newsletters
- ◆ Congregate meal sites and home delivered meals (Nutrition Awareness Month) as well as questionnaires and surveys
- ◆ Exercise programs at Senior Centers
- ◆ Pet Therapy programs for homebound seniors and Adult Day Care Centers
- ◆ Senior Expo Fair

Although the funding for Disease Prevention and Health Promotion is limited, it does allow the area agencies on aging to address the health needs of older adults.

Title VII-VULNERABLE ELDER RIGHTS PROTECTION

Description of Issue

Title VII, the Vulnerable Elder Rights Protection Title, was created by the 1992 amendments to the Older Americans Act. It addresses the need for strong advocacy to protect and enhance the basic rights and benefits of vulnerable older people.

Title VII has a dual focus. It brings together and strengthens existing advocacy programs for older people, and calls for their coordination and linkage within each state. In addition, Title VII calls on state agencies to take a holistic approach to elder rights advocacy by coordinating programs and fostering collaboration among programs and other advocates in each state to address issues of the highest priority for the most vulnerable elders.

Program Descriptions

While the Bureau of Aging and In-Home Services places priority on services to frail and vulnerable older people, the programs listed below are most directly involved in protecting the rights of vulnerable older people. The descriptions are not meant to capture all elements of the programs listed, but merely to present an overview.

The Long-Term Care Ombudsman Program

The Long-Term Care Ombudsman Program mandated by IC 12-10-13 assists residents of long-term care facilities and their family and friends to voice concerns regarding conditions that affect the quality of their care. The program also promotes policies and practices to improve the quality of life in nursing facilities, RCAP facilities and other adult care facilities.

The services of the Ombudsman Program are many and varied. Some of the services included are:

- Complaint investigation
- Resolve and mediate issues
- Provide information, education and representation on resident rights, restraints, abuse reporting, and prevention
- Work with enforcement agencies

Prevention of Elder Abuse, Neglect, and Exploitation Programs

Indiana Code 12-10-3-12 mandates the Bureau of Aging establish and maintain a publicized hotline phone number to receive reports of suspected elder abuse and to designate a lead APS unit for investigation and reporting purposes.

The goals of the Prevention of Elder Abuse, Neglect, and Exploitation Programs are listed below.

- Develop and strengthen activities, public outreach and training to prevent and treat elder abuse, neglect, and exploitation.
- Use a comprehensive approach to identify and assist older individuals subject to abuse, neglect and exploitation.
- Coordinate with other state and local programs and services to protect vulnerable adults, particularly older individuals.

Indiana Adult Guardianship/Money Management and Legal Services Programs

The purpose of the Indiana Adult Guardianship/Money Management and Legal Services Programs is to provide information about legal rights, to large numbers of older and disabled persons throughout Indiana. The program is to promote and preserve the autonomy, dignity, independence and financial security of older persons by:

- Informing and assisting large numbers of older persons in understanding their rights, benefits and entitlements;
- Provide information on lesser restrictive advocacy through prevention, early detection, and intervention;
- Initiating advocacy that has consequences of broad significance in preserving and protecting the rights and benefits of older persons.

Indiana Adult Guardianship/Money Management and Legal Services Programs

The Bureau of Aging and In-Home Services administers the Indiana Adult Guardianship/Money Management and Legal Services Programs, at the state-level. State-level activities are described in the State Plan for Older People, which is subject to public hearing and comment from all area agencies and aging units.

Area agencies on aging provide the single point of entry for services in Indiana. In addition, the AAAs are responsible for monitoring all programs funded with Older Americans Act funds. All AAAs have boards of directors and advisory councils consisting of a majority of older people. Finally, AAA technical assistance and oversight activities are described in the AAA plans for older people, which are subject to public hearing and comment from all aging units in the PSA.

The Indiana Association of Area Agencies on Aging is a vigorous advocate for enhanced funding.

The Indiana Money Management Association is also a vigorous advocate for the elderly, and is done mostly consisting of volunteers to assist the elderly to stay as independent as possible for the longest possible time.

Each Adult Guardianship and money management unit is overseen by a policy-making body or an advisory committee consisting of a majority of older persons. Aging unit plans for oversight of the program are required to undergo one or more public hearings.

Prevention of Elder Abuse, Neglect, and Exploitation Programs

Elder abuse and adult protective services “input from stakeholders” is achieved in many ways. In 1999, the Bureau of Aging and In-Home Services embarked on an initiative related to the Indiana Adult Protective Services Systems, it was designed to examine Indiana’s existing adult protective services reporting systems, including all relevant laws and regulations, to recommend ways to better protect and serve vulnerable adults across the life span regardless of where the individuals reside, and have a live data management system to assist in the tracking of both victims and perpetrators.

To accomplish this task, a workgroup of individuals was formed. The Committee members represented the broadest range possible of professionals related to adult protective services and included representatives of the Department’s Divisions of Disability Aging and Rehabilitative Services, Roeing Corporation, the Indiana Prosecuting Attorneys’ Council and staff from the Bureau of Aging and In-Home Services. In addition, representatives of the aging network, disability advocacy organizations, domestic violence programs, sexual assault/abuse programs, mental health programs, county corporation counsel association, county adult protective services and elder abuse programs and others including individuals with expertise in Alzheimer’s disease and developmental disabilities were included. The group’s representatives came from various geographic areas of the state.

In 2002 the Bureau of Aging and In-Home Services undertook two efforts to help gather information on improving elder abuse programming. The first effort was part of a training initiative we sponsored with the National White Collar Crime Center (NW3C) and AARP to train trainers on the facts, investigation and awareness of exploitation of elderly individuals via telephone, mail or Internet.

Finally, in 2002 the Division was able to increase by $500,000 dollars the amount awarded to the APS units, under contract. As a condition for receipt of these extra dollars, the units were to provide better coverage within their own catchment areas.

Helping Older People Have Access to and Assistance in Securing And Maintaining Benefits And Rights

The Older Americans Act requires that the state plan describe how the state will consult with area agencies and will identify and prioritize statewide activities aimed at ensuring that older persons have access to and assistance in securing and maintaining benefits and rights. The Agency Oversight Unit is in process of establishing assessment tools to assess and monitor the process and assurances placed in the Area Plans.

Statewide priorities for Money Managers, Guardians and APS, are determined by the Bureau of Aging and In-Home Services in consultation with area agencies on aging, aging units, legal services backups, and aging advocacy organizations, and the Indiana Prosecuting Attorney's Council. Training on priority issues is supplied under the direction of the Bureau of Aging and In-Home Services.

Statewide associates have received training, and are expected to provide assistance to elders on the issues listed below:

- Medicare
- Supplemental Security Income (SSI)
- Social Security
- Medicaid
- Medicaid Waivers
- CHOICE
- NW3C--Fraud prevention
- Investigations
- Consumer Problems
- Age Discrimination in Employment
- Housing Problems
- Home and Community Based Services
- Attorney General's office No-call list
- Other legal and benefit problems

Area Agencies, under the direction of citizen boards and advisory councils, may establish local priorities in addition to those used statewide.

ADDENDUM

For Clarification to the 2004-2005
Indiana State Plan
For
Aging and In-Home Services

- ◆ Originally submitted: August 1, 2003
- ◆ Date of addendum: August 22, 2003

1. OAA/State Plans, Section 307(a) (2) (E)-regarding the opportunities for hearings (grievance procedures) for AAAs, providers and consumers:

The Indiana Bureau of Aging and In-Homes Services assures the Administration on Aging that it will maintain established appeal procedures with providers and customers. These procedures are evident in our operations manual, and in the performance based contracts for the area agencies on aging, as well as the provider agreements within the state unit and statewide area agency on aging network. Our contracts specifically states that: "State and Grantee agree to maintain procedures in accordance with state regulations to promptly address complaints and appeals between the parties and of applicants for and recipients of services, and both parties agree to cooperate fully with the processing of any complaint or appeal." All of Indiana's area agency on aging organizations agree to these terms contractually. Furthermore, the BAIHS operations manual describes the various appeals process for each funding source, including Title III programs, CHOICE, and waivers. CHOICE is the companion funding source to AoA/OAA funding for providing home and community-based services to the citizens of Indiana.

Section Four of the BAIHS operations manuals is devoted entirely to the appeals process and details the appeals process for an area agency on aging; appeals process for service providers; appeals regarding case management certifications; appeals for clients applying for or receiving services; and specials appeals procedures for individuals involved with the waiver programs or the preadmission screening/resident review and those services as well.

BAIHS Operations manuals further addresses appeals and hearings procedures in Appendix A, State Plan Provisions Older Americans Act, item 6.

Item 28 of Indiana's the community based services/waiver certified provider agreement also provides pertinent appeal information.

2. OAA/State Plans, Section 307(a) (8) (A), regarding the direct provision of services:

The Indiana Bureau of Aging and In-Home Services assures the Administration on Aging that in accordance with AoA/OAA requirements and the BAIHS operations manual, 3104.1-4 which provides policies regarding direct delivery of services; and in appendix A, item 16 which indicates that no supportive services, nutrition services, or in-home services will be directly provided by BAIHS or a AAA, except as necessary to assure an adequate supply of such services; or such services are directly related to BAIHS or a AAA's administrative functions; or where such services of comparable quality can be provided more economically by BAIHS or a AAA. Furthermore, BAIHS requires, in accord with OAA Area Plan requirements in section 306 and waiver requirements in section 316, that waivers be granted only in those cases meeting the specific requirements of the of the act and the operations manual.

The area agencies on aging are designated by state law and our BAIHS operations manual as the administrative agents of Title III and the CHOICE home and community-based, in-home services funding sources.

3. OAA/State Plans, Section 305(a)(2)(E) regarding preference to providing services to older individuals with greatest economic need and older individuals with greatest social need, with particular attention to low-income, minority individuals and older individuals residing in rural areas:

The Bureau of Aging and In-home Services assures that in accordance with all OAA requirements and BAIHS operations manual 2301.3.4, item 8 indicates the responsibility and duty of the area agency on aging to establish specific objectives for providing services to older adults in with the greatest economic or social need, including specific objectives for providing services to low-income minority adults. The bureau also requires that these objectives are addressed with each Area Plan submitted. BAIHS has been diligent in monitoring and providing feedback to the area agencies on aging regarding this matter. Indiana has at least two AAA planning service areas with heavy concentrations of low income, minority individuals (Lake and Marion counties), and is closely watching the changing demographic composition of Floyd county. Indiana has few rural, minority elderly individuals.

The number of elderly, low income, minority individuals in 2000, as per latest data, is 18,140 statewide or 4.52% of the total population. The methods used to satisfy the services needs of this population includes the following: First, one of six funding factors is specifically for use for age 60+ minorities at or below the poverty level. Second, the bureau shall provide technical assistance to all AAA which have substantial minority populations. Third, the AAA area plans provides detailed information on efforts to reach and serve minority populations. Finally, the bureau monitors the efforts of the AAAs in this area on a quarterly and annual basis.

4. OAA/State Plans section 306(a)(2) regarding the minimum proportions for priority services for each AAA:

The Bureau of Aging and In-Home Services assures that in accord with all OAA requirements and contained within section three, item 3108 of the BAIHS operations manual which specifies that a minimum percentage of the AAA Title III B allotment to be spent in each of the following priority service categories:

- 1) Access services-45%
- 2) In-Home services-15%
- 3) Legal Services-3%
- 4) Ombudsman services-3%

BAIHS operations manual items 3108.1 and 2 also provides additional descriptions of procedures to be used by the bureau and the AAAs to assure that amounts budgeted for propriety services do not fall below the required minimums.

5. OAA/State Plans section 307 (a)(3)(B) regarding services for rural older individuals:

The Indiana Bureau of Aging and In-Home Services assures that it will spend for each fiscal year of the plan, not less than the amount expended for such services in fiscal year 2000 and provides that the methods used to satisfy the needs of older individuals living in rural areas are as follows: (a) The use of six funding factors in determining allocations of Title III funds, one of which is specifically for the number of elderly persons age 60+ living in rural areas; (b) The bureau provides technical assistance regarding outreach to AAAs with rural populations in the planning and service areas; (c) The AAAs place special emphasis on serving isolated, rural populations through the placement of meal sites, access services, disease prevention/health promotion services, and home delivered meals; (d) The bureau reviews and analyzes quarterly and annual reports to determine funding and the number of persons served in the rural areas.

*Projected estimates of Title III funding expenditures for FY 2004 are $1,684,968.00 and for FY 2005 they are estimated to be $1,735,517.00. (BAIHS is estimating a 3% growth in Title III funding expenditures per each fiscal year of this plan.)

The AAAs also provides documentation, through the area plans, of their emphasis to serve older individuals living in rural areas.

6. OAA/State Plans section 307(a)(8)(B)and (C) regarding case management services and the role of AAAs in providing information and assistance/referral and outreach:

The Indiana Bureau of Aging and In-Home Services in accord with OAA requirements and the BAIHS operations manual items 1103, 2301.4 (1-15) which includes that the bureau instructs AAAs to conduct case management services, provide for assessment activities, develop care plans, conduct periodic plan reviews, monitor the quality of community and home care services provided to clients, and provide information and assistance to clients in need of- community and in-home services. The AAAs and their case management systems are the primary resource relative to all aging services and issues on behalf of all older adults in their planning and service areas. The Indiana AAA/case management system maintains authority, embedded by state law (IC 12-10-10; IAC 460) over the CHOICE program which emphasizes home and community-based services. Information and Assistance/Referral and outreach activities are provided by all AAAs and are required components of the area plans as well.

7. OAA/State Plan sections 307(a)(4) and 305(a)(2)(B) regarding public hearings and other means to obtain the views of older persons, AAAs, and other interested parties:

The Indiana Bureau of Aging and in-Home Services utilizes a variety of methods to obtain information from the public, older individuals, AAAs and other interested parties through various partnerships, advocacy groups, and task workgroups.

The State Ombudsman regularly attends periodic public hearings.

With vulnerable Elder rights, a white collar crime (i.e.: mail/telephone fraud, internet scams etc..) committee was formed with members representing the broadest range possible of professionals related to adult protective services and included representatives of the Department's Divisions of Disability Aging and Rehabilitative Services, Roeing Corporation, the Indiana Prosecuting Attorney's Council, staff (including the Adult Protective Services program coordinator and unit supervisor) from the Bureau of Aging and In-Home Services, the Federal Bureau of Investigations, and the United States Secret Service. In addition, representatives of the aging network, disability advocacy organizations, domestic violence programs, sexual assault/abuse programs, mental health programs, county corporation counsel association, county adult protective services and elder abuse programs and others including individuals with expertise in Alzheimer's disease and developmental disabilities were included. The group's representatives came from various geographic areas of the state.

In addition to obtaining information and input from the CHOICE Board, the Indiana Commission on Aging and the Indiana Association of Area Agencies on Aging, The Indiana Bureau of Aging and In-Home Services also obtains information from: AARP, The ARC of Indiana, Alzheimer's Association, Indiana Health Care Association, Indiana Association of Homes & Services for the Aging, United Senior Action, Senior Health Insurance Information Program, Indiana Association of Home & Hospice Care, Citizens' Action Coalition, Hoosier Rx Program, State Ombudsman, Adult Protective Services; Indiana State Department of Health, Bureau of Development Disabilities Services, Vocational Rehabilitation Services, Bureau of Blind and Visually Impaired Services, Bureau of Deaf and Hard of Hearing Services, Indiana Office of Medicaid Policy and Planning, Indiana Department of Mental Health and Addiction, Indiana Department of Family and Children, Indiana Department of Workforce Development; US Departments of Labor and Education. We also closely review AAA needs assessments obtained from older individuals within each areas planning and service area and require updated needs assessments each time a new area plan is submitted. Furthermore, each AAA is required to post notices of Advisory Council meetings at nutrition sites, in order to gain as much community interest and participation as possible.

In addition to the above, the BAIHS operations manual 3110, and 3110.1 through 3110.3.2 provide specific reference to public hearing within BAIHS and the AAAs. BAIHS participated in the public hearings process particularly in 1999-2000, in conjunction with the Bureau of Developmental Disabilities regarding the development of the developmental disabilities waiver. BAIHS had administrative oversight of this waiver until February 2001. In 2003, BAIHS also sponsored public hearings on the Assisted Living waiver rule, which is now in the promulgation process; and the Residential Care Assistance Program (RCAP) rules. As BAIHS undertakes a statewide needs assessment during the fiscal years included in this plan, we have the intention to have public hearings in regard to this needs assessment.

AAAs may engage in annual provider meetings, forming focus groups of consumers, and undertaking the needs assessment as ways of providing feedback. Community presentations are another way that BAIHS and the AAAs disseminate and gather information from the public and consumers.

BAIHS also maintains two representatives on the FSSA Mortality Review Committee which is charged with conducting in-depth reviews of deaths occurring in state institutional settings. The Mortality Review Committee is comprised of representatives from health care, criminal investigation, medicine, quality/provider standards, adult protective services, citizen advocates, and the Indiana Department of Health.

8. Regarding Volunteerism to assist older individuals in Indiana:

The Indiana Bureau of Aging and In-Home Services, through the AAAs, supports and encourages volunteerism. Volunteers form a significant and instrumental complement to AAA/case management and the aging service delivery system. While the Title III C home delivered meal program and other nutrition activities frequently utilize volunteers, BAIHS has encouraged other unique forms of volunteer activities. For instance, LifeStream Services Inc., (Indiana AAA 6) developed a local, volunteer group called AngelWorx®.

While beginning as a pen-pal group, the volunteer group quickly expanded in scope. They still feature the pen pal theme, but have also added subsets of volunteers including AngelCorps for organizations or groups; TeenAngel volunteer opportunities for children and young adults; LittlestAngels for elementary school children who write to home-bound seniors, and AngelWorx Rapid Response Team for emergency volunteer service. The program name is even a registered trademark, and the program success is largely due to the participation of this volunteers. This is just one example of the many fine volunteer activities that BAIHS encourages in the state. BAIHS may also partner with volunteers from: AARP, The ARC of Indiana, Alzheimer's Association, Indiana Health Care Association, Indiana Association of Homes
